Take A Look At The Wild Side

There are two sides to every story you know.

School." The first thing that comes to mind with the uttering of this word is often the serious side — homework, tests, grades, term papers. But like all things, there are two sides to every story. The other side ... THE WILD SIDE — the craziness only close friends can share, the outrageous ECU, and the laughter and spirit we here at Rose High possess.

Within the walls of our minds lies this "WILD SIDE" — waiting and hoping to soon be unleashed.

We have the ability and opportunity to see and do all things, and with the imagination and capabilities school gives us, we conquer all ...

fashion, academics, sports, community service, and peer relationships. The WILD SIDE just makes it a little easier — a reserve when the feat of tackling these things gets rough.

As Rampants, we are ON THE RAMPAGE but always, waiting impatiently to experience the WILD SIDE.

The Class of '88

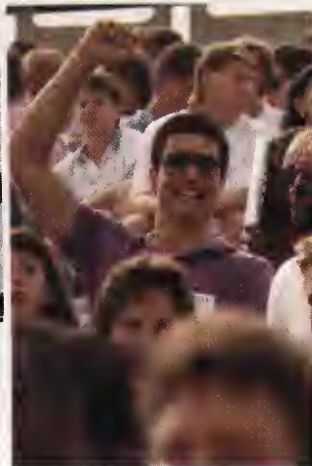

"Fight the fight with all your might . . ."
Senior Chelsa Lucas exhibits her school spirit while clapping to the Rose High fight song. Not only does she take pride in her school, she takes pride in the class of '88 by sporting her "Sr" girls jersey.

Letting it all out, the band cheers with fervor as Rose scores yet another touchdown against Northern Nash. Faithful supporters of the Rampant football team, the band spends long hours practicing for perfection as they anticipate their halftime performance.

The apprehensive students sit anxiously awaiting their turn to receive their diploma. Listening attentively, their fellow students speak to them, recalling events and lessons learned from the past. Realizing now that the beginning of their lives is coming to an end, they look forward to a bright future.

Arleen Song marches across the stage at Minges Coliseum to receive her diploma after twelve long years of hard work. Due to inclement weather, the graduation exercises were not held at Ficklen Stadium as normal. This ultimate climax of excitement makes every bit of work during high school seem worthwhile.

Our '87 Prom And Graduation Led To The End Of The Beginning

As we stood in line next to our friends anxiously awaiting the final moment, memories lingered in our minds. Remembering every special occasion from the past twelve years, we experienced every emotion in a one hour span. We were excited, sad, anxious, scared, curious, and uncertain about the future. The date was June 12, 1987, graduation night.

Memories of the past few weeks were the most vivid in our minds. The Junior/Senior prom, a special night at the Holidome preceded by a nice dinner at one of the city's most popular restaurants, made memories that will last a lifetime.

Next, the Junior/Senior weekend, our traditional beach weekend of good times and fun under the sun, still put a smile on everyone's face. Along with the end of that infamous three-day adventure, comes the end of the year. There is only one event left.

The one special night finally arrives and the excitement mounts. Though we had numerous practices, we were still not quite sure what to do and with all the nervousness Mr. Banks has to tell us one last time where to go. Finally we hear our name, march across that stage to receive our long awaited diploma, and traditionally end with the turning of our tassels.

One last celebration with our friends at the Sheraton, for the graduation dance, and it is all over. The goals have all been achieved and the stage is now set for the rising seniors, the class of '88, to set and achieve their goals, for next year it is their turn.

The stuff that dreams are made of. Every high school student knows what these things are and everyone, at one time or another, dreams of that final moment. It is now the time for the class of 1988's dreams to become a reality as they experience their Senior year and finally, graduation.

After... Graduates Burt Richardson and Debbie Smith enjoy themselves during the 1987 Junior/Senior prom held annually at the Holiday Inn. That special night with that special someone made memories for these two that will stay with them forever.

When the art of work and play come together it's "SUN"ning HOT. Senior Hope Barwick spent her summer lifeguarding at a local pool. Here, she makes sure that the swimmers obey pool rules while catching some heated rays.

On a scorching summer day, Senior L.L. Everett plays it cool at the pool. Aside from this splash, L.L. spent his summer going to the beach and working for his father.

Although some like it hot, Senior Jeff Utley would rather play it cool. In addition to attending various concerts, Jeff's summer included practicing with his band and recording their music at EM&R Studio in Greenville.

The torch is coming! The torch is coming! Juniors Lee Nisbet and Erin Becker take a breather after participating in the torch run. In commemoration of the U.S. Olympic Festival '87, Lee and Erin helped move the torch through Greenville on June 25th as it made its way to Raleigh.

We Experienced Summer Hummers And Summer Bummers

Riding On The Crest Of A Rampant Wave

As the sizzling sun sent temperatures soaring into the mid and upper 90's, we all invisioned sandy beaches, cool waters, and clear blue skies. While surfing, jogging, or simply hanging out at the local pool with friends, we all strove to achieve the maximum tan possible. For some of us this was reality . . .

Unfortunately for others, kicking back and taking it easy was just a dream. Instead of exotic vacations, musical solitude with the headphones, or occasional trips to the beach, the summer was devoted to the serious side of business — making the "bucks." Whether it was slinging hamburgers at a fast food restaurant, babysitting, skating at Sonic Drive-In or scooping ice cream cones at the corner drug store, vacations meant work.

For all of us, however, whether it was a summer of fun or a summer of work, the end of vacation was a summer BUMMER as we dragged ourselves back to another year of hitting the books.

A sizzling sensation! Sophomore Veronica Corbett's summer was spent behind the grill frying hamburgers and preparing other foods at the Sonic Drive-In in Greenville.

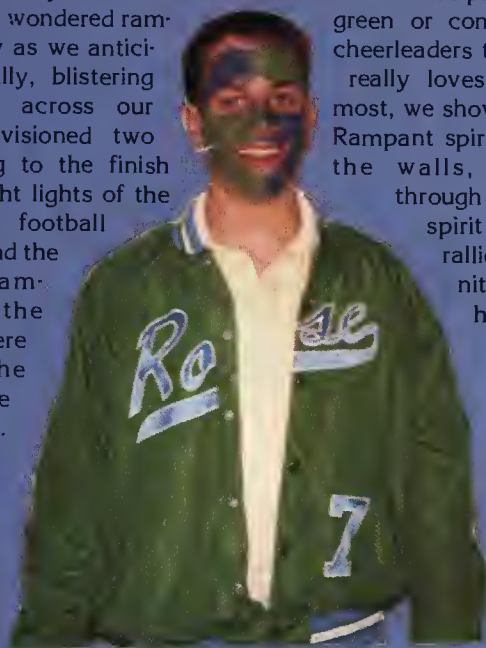

Killer! Vex! Hairy! Senior David Russ spent his summer on the sidewalks, streets, and walls. His insane skateboard moves were seen all over town.

Let's celebrate while we still have time! Senior Jessica Bays takes time to celebrate the seventeenth birthday of Maureen Joyce. The surprise party was given by Alyson Carter on August 29th at Quail Ridge pool.

At Pep Rallies And Ball Games We Show Our True Colors

Fridays seemed to be the longest day of the week. Our minds wondered rampantly as we anticipated the chilly, blistering wind blowing across our faces. We envisioned two teams fighting to the finish under the bright lights of the Farley-Minges football stadium. Behind the echoes of Rampant pride, the multitudes were clad in the mighty blue and green ... Who said Rose High didn't have spirit? Whether we're painted in blue and green or competing with the cheerleaders to determine who really loves our school the most, we show our true colors. Rampant spirit is plastered on the walls, demonstrated through participation in spirit week and pep rallies, and most definitely heard in the halls.

Let's face it, as Rampants, we want everyone to know that we're on the Rampage.

Quite simply, we're Rose High. Junior Shontell Clark exhibits her spirit to all as she supports the Rampants at a Friday afternoon pep rally.

Here's pie in your eye. Varsity cheerleader Stephanie Lang acts as an applause meter during a pep rally. The louder the crowd got, the higher she sent. Much to the crowd's de light, Coach Williams received the pie treat when the frenzy reached its peak.

Shout, shout, let it all out! Varsity cheerleader Shannon Howard pumps up the Rampants at a pep rally. While enthusing the crowd, the cheerleaders and football team hope for a win against Northern Nash.

Who's number one? Junior varsity cheerleader Sally Whichard gets Sophomore Chris Bland all tied up for the class spirit competition during the first pep rally of the year. Even though the Sophomore class lost out to the Seniors, they gave it their best, because after all they are finally Rampants.

No longer the "babies" and not quite the big boys, the junior class distinguishes itself by getting psyched up for the big game. Throughout the year, they continue to develop and mature on their road to being Seniors!

"C'mon Duane, smile for the lady!" A newly met acquaintance tries to persuade Duane Holder, a bashful Junior, to show his pearly whites. Both were enjoying a Thursday night filled with food, friends, and fun at the fair.

Leaving The Pressures Behind We Encounter A Fun-Filled Frenzy

The 3:15 bell rings and within seconds cars are shooting out of the parking lots on to Elm Street. It is Friday and the weekend is well on its way.

Forgetting term papers, tests, and late hours of homework, we begin our weekend adventure by tying up phone lines in hopes of finding out what's going on for that night. Is it going to be a Rose game, a wild party with friends, or that big date? A movie sounds nice or perhaps we could even have dinner at our favorite restaurant. Whether it be Darryls, Chicos, or our favorite BK lounge, there's always food to be eaten. Those of us that are lucky enough to be the big "18" could even scope the social scene downtown. Whatever we decide on, it's guaranteed to be a walk on the wild side as we are unleashed to embark on another two-day weekend.

Unfortunately, Monday morning comes much too soon. We slowly pull into our designated parking lots with thoughts of all the work we didn't do over the weekend. Yawning, we approach each other reluctant, but ready to face another week of all the stress and pressure we call high school.

"You've got the look!" was the theme of the year's first dance and possibly the thought in this Junior's head. Brad Myers attempts to capture the attention of Senior Mary Beth Brinn. The dance, held by the Art Club after a home game against Northern Nash, was a celebration of victory.

"Are you ready to rock!?" Alexis Hickman seems anxious while Tristin Jones appears skeptical about riding the Himalaya at the Pitt County Fair. Both Juniors encountered a fast-paced, deafening experience but were all smiles when it was over.

Digging the scene! Seniors Allison Carter and Michelle Drake check out the moves on the dance floor at the Art Club dance. The place was the Teen Center and the scene was all fun.

There is a little kid in all of us that is bound to show through at the Pitt County Fair. Juniors Jennifer Powell and Missy Coyle appear to be enjoying themselves despite having to anxiously wait in the neverending line for the Gravitron.

Pirate Pride through a golden smile. Seniors Susan Sloan and Paula Lynch pose with the ECU mascot, Mr. Pirate, during the game against Georgia Southern. Susan and Paula stayed to watch ECU triumph over the Eagles on Parents' Day, September 26.

Never strangers, always friends, Timmy Moore receives a friendly greeting from Wes MacKenzie at a Pirate football game. Timmy and Wes are only a part of the large number of Rose students who attend these athletic events.

Chug-a-lug! Senior Craig Harrell gulps it down while tailgating before an ECU football game. For Craig and company, tailgating, an important part of pre-game activities, is as invigorating as the game itself.

How about those Pirates! Billy Carr and a friend enjoy viewing the game from the stands on a rather warm September afternoon.

We Experienced The Wild Side And Wondered What It Would Be Like If We Were Pirates

Hey, hey, EC you look so good to me!" We can't help but be a part of the university's spir-those long, tedious hours of research, and some of us even take advantage of the university's extensive course offerings.

it and excitement.

Even as high school students, we enjoy the football games, the big names that appear in concert, the travel films, and the drama productions. We see familiar faces each night at Joyner Library during

The influence ECU has ever our community and school is overwhelming. Helping us "drive toward our goal in '88", it leaves us wondering whether we are Ram-pants or we are Pirates.

Almost home, Elizabeth Louis climbs the many steps towards the general admission area at Ficklen Stadium. She joins other Rose students as they support East Carolina University.

Taking notes of all the right moves. Axel Smith watches the Pirate football players intently. Edith Levett uses her own football knowledge as the two enjoy a Saturday afternoon together.

Lost in the colors of ECU, Marty Tschetter earns extra money while selling drinks to thirsty spirited ECU fans.

Clowning around, Juniors Jeff Likosar, Jerry Powers, and Jon West goof off after school. For these three, this was nothing out of the ordinary.

Close companions, Sophomores Tanya Moore and Nikki Joyner were lucky enough to get neighboring lockers. Fortunately, this allowed the two to see each other throughout the day.

Look at that. Junior DeWanda Eaton couldn't let Veronica Short miss out on anything that happened in one of our great pep rallies. After all, that's what friends are for.

All smiles, long-time friends Marie Board and Andrea Moore attend an ECU football game. Throughout the fall, this event was the norm for friends on Saturday afternoons.

Lunch for two. Senior Lara Moore and Sophomore Heath Clark venture off alone to enjoy some quiet time together. Lara gives up her lunch privileges to spend time with Heath and catch up on some homework.

We Underwent The Wild Side In The Company Of Friends

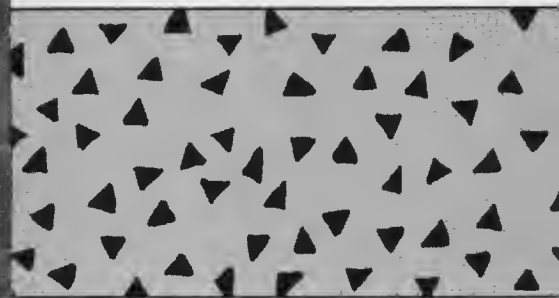

A true friend. It is said that all you need in life is one true friend. A true friend is loyal without question or reason. He brings happiness to each day. If you have one true friend, life's joys are more meaningful and life's tragedies less painful. To have one true friend is to have been given one of the most precious gifts that life has to offer.

We walk the halls each day passing friendly faces; we practice after school with those striving for the same goals; we eat, study, and spend our summers together. Not many other schools can claim our camaraderie. After all, here at Rose, we are all in the company of friends.

During change of classes, Seniors Errol Wooten, Eric Daniels, Brian Pierce, and Keyford Langley strut their stuff. Although five minutes wasn't very long, it was a perfect time to hang out with the fellows.

For Michelle Hyman and Shannon Howard it was a Blue And Green Dream Come True

Excitement and anticipation mounted as October 30th came upon Rose High School.

The crisp air hit your face as you walked toward the new Farley-Minges football stadium. You pulled your jacket closer to you to ward off the unwarranted cold night air. Tonight the new Homecoming queens would be crowned and the excitement was too much.

The day's festivities, highlighted by the Homecoming assembly and a 4 o'clock parade, only generated more excitement for the football game against Wilson Hunt.

As the long awaited moment arrived, a voice finally echoed the names of the new 1987 Homecoming queens Shannon Howard and Michelle Hyman. After the victory over Wilson Hunt, the Student Government Association sponsored a dance in the cafeteria bringing an end to Homecoming '87, now just a memory in our minds.

The 1987 Homecoming escorts are Bill Taft, Errol Wooten, David Tingelstad, Cam Smith, Wesley Jackson, Brian Wille, Richard Lewis, Steve Ward, and Demetrius Godette.

After being crowned the 1987 Homecoming queens, Michelle Hyman and Shannon Howard pose with last year's queens Kelly Wall and Amber Harris.

Talk's Cheap! Axel Smith and David Daniels demolish the wreath sent by Wilson Hunt prior to our Homecoming game. Contrary to hopeful yet unsuccessful Hunt, Rose defeats the Warriors 34 to 12.

The 1987 Homecoming court representatives are Sonya Daniels, Felicia Turnage, Shannon Howard, Adonica Suggs, Paige Brannon, Jennifer Brown, Leigh Zadeits, Shelia Harrell, Susan Aycok, Michelle Hyman, Kristi Overton, and Tami Crowell.

The 1987 Homecoming princesses are Juniors Allyson Maloney and Shanita Crowell and Sophomores Melodie Hahn and Cherry Fields.

The 1987 Homecoming Senior football players and their sponsors are Tiffany Williams, Axel Smith and Edith Levett, Jay Mattox and Elizabeth Louis, Jeff Mahoney and Caroline Crawford, Tommy Baker and Leigh Zadeits, Stacey Best and Felicia Turnage, Tim Hines and Monica Gaynor, David Daniels and Tami Crowell, Tom Moye and Shannon Howard, Barry Murry and Kristi Overton, Adrian Barnhill and Michelle Hyman, Gerald Okoth and Sabrina Daniels, and Jennifer Brown. Not pictured are Rexter Williams and Clarence Baker.

Some Students Know It's An Honor To Be The Cream Of The Crop

Recognition is definitely in order for many deserving Rose High students. The achievement of these students is a result of many hours of hard work and dedication. Many spend weeks of their precious summer time doing work and spending hours in the classroom. Others have spent years working diligently and these honors that they have earned represent those years of hard work.

Suzanne Brewer was our representative at the Hugh O'Brian leadership seminar held in Charlotte, North Carolina this year. She was chosen based on an application which asked how the student has demonstrated leadership ability, sensitivity, and concern for others.

Bill Taft and Ed Norris were both participants in Boys' State. This is a program that allows participants to set up and run a government on city, state, and judicial levels. It was established to allow students to experience government.

Mr. and Miss School Spirit is an award that is voted on by Rose students. Students vote for whom they think is most school orientated and backs Rose with a lot of enthusiasm.

Our Mr. and Miss School Spirit of this year are Wes Jackson, Shannon Howard, Axel Smith, and Stephanie Lang.

Jennifer King and Julie Parks were participants in Girls' State. This is a program that establishes leadership training through active participation in a democratic mock-government.

The 1988 Pitt County Quiz Bowl was held on February 2nd at the Greenville Municipal Building. Our Rose High team proved themselves victorious over rivals D.H. Conley. Members and advisors of the Quiz Bowl team are: Front row — Robbie Barnes, Mohammed Dar, James Lawler, Ed Norris. Back row — Mrs. Creech, Mrs. Wynne, Mrs. Lewis, Rolf Sundwall, Mrs. Mann, Stephanie Hewett, Moahad Dar, Mrs. Humphrey, Todd Taylor.

This year, Shannon Howard is the recipient of a highly regarded citizenship award, the DAR (Daughters of the American Revolution).

Governor's School is a summer residential program for nominated and chosen students that excel in either academics or the performing arts. It allows for students to explore their interests and further enhance their special talents. Participants in Governor's School for the summer of '87 were Jenny Jones, Alisa Tinkham, Ann Thornton, Jennifer King, and John Turner. Not pictured: Mohammed Dar, Brian Wille, Alex Ferguson, Penny McLawhorn, Jim Metzger, and David Tingelstad.

Being selected as a Marshal is a high honor. These Seniors were chosen based on class rank and academic performance. One of their duties is to serve as ushers for Awards Day and Graduation. The 1987 Marshals are: Front row — Andrea Rogers, Jessica Bays, Hilary Roscoe, Jenny Jones, Julie Parks, Stephanie Hewett, Deaundrea Adams, Tami Crowell. Second row — Renee

The Academic Decathlon is a class that meets in the mornings before school. They are preparing year long for a state academic competition that will be held in Thomasville, North Carolina. The

Bays, Bill Castleton, and their advisor, Mrs. Lennon.

Jennifer Bullock and Kristen Lanier participated in the governmental educational program "close-up". In this program, Washington D.C. becomes the classroom. Participants are exposed to differing viewpoints on domestic and international affairs that face our government.

Mohammed Dar, Terri Jarvis, and Ed Norris were Morehead nominees this year. Even though they were not finalists, this is a great honor for the Morehead Scholarship is the largest merit scholarship program in the country.

Robbie Barnes was our farthest advancing Morehead scholar this year. After many interviews and applications, he has advanced as a finalist.

Caroline Crawford, Alex Ferguson, and Jennifer King were all winners of a gold key this year. A gold key is equal to a blue ribbon. It represents excellence in visual arts for high school students. They were in competition with 1900 other students at the regional competition. Lee Misbet and Alicia Pascasio were also winners but are not pictured.

Kristi Overton won the Dial Award, a very prestigious award that is presented annually to the top national high school athlete and scholar. She was chosen by a nationwide panel of coaches, college recruiters, and sports journalists who make their decision on three areas of accomplishment: athletic, academic, and civic. In her sport, waterskiing, she has won over a dozen gold medals and at least 20 silver and bronze. Here, she is pictured with Walter Payton of the Chicago Bears at the award's banquet held January 23, 1988 in Washington, D.C.

The Top Twenty Seniors Named "Who's Who" Know:

It's Not Lonely At The Top

Voted on by the Senior class, the Who's Who Seniors were the twenty favorite students who are strong, not only in character, but in academics and school service as well. When it comes right down to it, they're just all around great people.

After nominating, tabulating, voting and more tabulation, the results were announced through publication in the yearbook. For the first time, the staff kept the results top-secret until May. So, without further ado here they are . . .

Rose Students Get Involved In Government

A Wild And Working Democracy

Involvement in the Greenville-Pitt County Youth Council and the Student Government Association provides Rose High Students with an opportunity to serve and learn about our local government.

The Student Government Association is the representative body of Rose High School. A long term goal of the S.G.A. is to build better leaders and to stimulate interest in government.

Through the course of the school year, the S.G.A. sponsors Homecoming, Close-up, Local Government Involvement Day, Student Body Fundraisers, Campus beautification, and trips to athletic events.

The S.G.A. is the only direct representative voice that the Student Body has at Rose High. The S.G.A. presents the concerns of students to the school administration for consideration.

Another youth government organization at Rose is that Greenville-Pitt County Youth Council. The Youth Council was started in 1986 at Rose High School. Since then, the popularity of the Council has spread to the local level. The Youth Council functions closely with the Teen Center.

One purpose of the Youth Council is to provide community service. This year the Youth Council has provided our community with many beneficial services. In cooperation with the Greenville Jaycees, the Youth Council decorated and operated a room at the Jaycees Haunted House. On October 3, 1987, the Youth Council held a Bike-a-thon to raise money for Saint Jude's Childrens Hospital. At Thanksgiving, the Youth Council made several donations to needy families in the community.

The Greenville-Pitt County Youth Council also sponsors activities held at the Teen Center such as dances, volleyball and softball tournaments, weekend night movies, and beach trips are all programs that are made available to Rose students by the Teen Center.

The Teen Center provides young people with a good place to go and have fun. When asked about the Teen Center, Junior Jim Seagrave responded saying, "The Teen Center is a great place to go when there is nothing going on. The dances at the Teen Center are especially fun."

These two youth organizations give Rose students an opportunity to get involved in government and to provide service to the community.

Junior Class Officers Terrence Teal, Tristin Jones, and Edward Moore participate in the 1987 Homecoming Parade.

Greenville-Pitt County Youth Council members wait their turn to play volleyball. On Sundays, The Teen Center sponsors volleyball and other activities.

Junior Tristin Jones stops for a rest on her bike. Tristin participated in a Bike-a-Thon sponsored by the Greenville-Pitt County Youth Council. The Bike-a-Thon was held in Jaycee Park and the money raised by each participant was donated to St. Jude's Childrens Hospital.

These Youth Council Members take a break from the heat at a beach weekend. The beach weekend, October 18-19, was sponsored by the Greenville-Pitt County Youth Council.

Student Government Association advisor Billie Lennon helps clean up for the Southern Accreditor Association. The S.G.A. did their part in cleaning up the school grounds.

By Burning Up The Pages, Students Received

Class Acts And . . .

The honor societies this year stood a head above everyone else. They not only excelled in academics but also put work into improving our school and community.

The National Spanish Honor Society, headed by Ms. Beacham, recognizes academic achievement in Spanish among students.

This club is just an honor; they are not very active.

The Math Honor Society, advised by Mrs. Burlington, is an organization that promotes understanding and enjoyment of math. An active member must have completed four semesters of college prep math and have at least a B average. During Math Education Week they participate by promoting interest in math programs by certain activities.

The International Thespian Society is an honorary extension of the Drama Club. Ms. Topper is in charge of these Thespians that have met the requirements of having six Thespian points. Each point equals ten hours of work. This year the club was asked to participate in the N.C. Theater Conference One-act Play Contest. They performed an original play entitled "The Endless Audition." They also presented two one-act plays as a winter production this year in Rose High cafeteria.

"Break a leg, Susie!" International Thespian member Susie Ambert is dressed and ready to perform. Pat rick Stanforth gives Susie an encouraging pat on the back.

"Look Ms. Topper they are taking our picture!" This Thespian member, Amy Fawcett, expresses the drama in herself by posing for the camera.

International Thespian member Darby Thomas show off a little of her wild side. This is not an odd

The members of the National Math Honor Society are: Jonathon Li and Michael Moore. Not pictured, Daniel Cheng.

An + Education

The National Art Honor Society, under the supervision of Billy Stinson, has the job of encouraging extra art activities at Rose and in the community. This year they have been busy making hospital decorations, painting windows for Christmas, and doing some mural painting.

Quill and Scroll is an organization that recognizes student's achievement in journalism and scholastic publications. Our Rose chapter, advised by Ms. Ringer, is active in the publication of the yearbook and school newspaper. They also participate in the school literary magazine.

The National Honor Society has been very active this year. They are in charge of a tutorial program for students after school. At Christmas they donated food, money, and clothes to a needy family. NHS was also in charge of marshalling the guests from the Southern Association that visited Rose.

National Art Honor Society member, Karen Williamson, uses her artistic abilities to help decorate for the Homecoming assembly. When the gym was completely decorated it was a true example of the Homecoming theme, "The blue and green dream."

These proud Seniors smile as they pose for a few parents in the lobby of St. James Methodist Church.

They have all just been inducted into the National Honor Society.

National Honor Society member, David Tinglestad, is tutoring at one of the after school sessions the club is offering. Many students have taken advantage of this free help. Tutoring is just one of the many projects the National Honor Society has gotten involved in this year.

The National Art Honor Society shows off their creativity for which they are noted. All of these students have been specially recognized for showing excellent artistic ability and creativity.

By Speaking In Tongues, Students Encounter Cultural Experiences

The Latin, French, Spanish, and International Clubs broaden our horizons and extend our knowledge to foreign boundaries. These clubs have many fundraisers to help the school and many events that teach the students about how things may be in a different country.

The Latin Club is designed to try to stress the classics. The club does this through activities such as banquets and feasts that stress the role of the classics. One weekend, the club even took a retreat. The club's advisor is Mrs. Ringer.

The French Club is designed to teach students a little more about the culture of France. To further the knowledge of its members, they invited speakers and were involved in an international pen-pal program. Also, the French Club challenged the Spanish Club in the first annual soccer match between the two clubs. Their advisor is Mrs. Briley.

The Spanish Club's main goals are to provide an organization for Spanish students who want to increase their knowledge of Spanish culture and to try to provide a service for the school. The club helps the school by sponsoring many fundraisers such as: Candy jar raffles in December and March, and a car wash in April. They also show school spirit by participating in school functions like Homecoming. The club's advisor is Mrs. Morgan.

The International club is designed to teach students more about foreign countries. Throughout the year, trips, guest speakers, and travel films increased their knowledge about foreign countries. They also held a Christmas International dinner on December 12. The club's advisor is Mrs. Stinson.

Senior Mohammed Dar helps to spread gravel in front of the school. Mohammed, president, along with other members of the French Club helped out to beautify the school for the visit from the accreditation committee.

By entering the Homecoming parade, the Spanish Club shows their school spirit. The truck, driven by Cam Smith, was decorated in the school colors showing their spirit for the "blue and green dream." All the entries in the parade made it one of the more memorable events during the year.

Seniors Jenny Jones and Kristen Shea also pitch in to clean up and beautify the school on November 14th and 15th. Jenny and Kristen are members of the French Club, one of the many organizations who helped out with the project.

Senior Pam Chamberlain, a member of the International Club, fixes refreshments for the students during the beautification weekend. The project was a success thanks to the efforts of the clubs and their members who came out to help.

Extra Curricular Activities Have Students Burning Up The Pages

Designed to challenge math students on the problem solving skills, the math club provides a service to the school. Club members meet once a month to hear speakers or to solve challenging math problems. They also help teachers with bulletin boards and during National Math Education Week, the club does something special dealing with math every day. Their advisor is Mrs. Burlington.

The science club is designed to take the classroom science education further through speakers and extra activities. Members help with the Science Fair each year and attend the North Carolina Academy of Science meetings. Many members have competed in various science fairs and symposiums. The club's advisors are Mrs. Brinson and Mrs. Wynne.

The library media club is organized to teach students more about library services to both the school and the community. The club provides a service to the school by helping with the Book Fair. Members take an annual trip to the Library of Congress and Folger Shakespearean Library. Also, they take trips to Joyner Library and East Carolina University's Medical Library. At the end of the year an award is given to the outstanding library science student of the year. The club's advisors are Mrs. Humphrey and Mrs. Lewis.

Library aide Stacey Best sorts out cards for students checking out books. The many library aides help the librarians get things done quickly and efficiently.

During a visit from the "snake man", Mike Moore shows that man still can conquer animals. The members of the club learned to be comfortable around snakes and that snakes are not always harmful.

Learning that you don't have to be afraid of snakes, Ann Thornton gets a hug from a different friend during a science club meeting.

Junior Allyson Maloney copies some information for a teacher. Many of the library club members are also library aides and this is just one of the many jobs the aides do for the librarians, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Humphrey.

Members Of FBLA, FTA, And FHA Are

Planning For Tomorrow . . .

The Future Business Leaders of America, Future Homemakers, and Future Teachers all have one main goal: To prepare their members for a career in their respective fields.

The Future Business Leaders of America are led by advisor, Ms. Judy Cox, who helps to provide additional opportunities for secondary students in Business and Office Education. The club develops vocational and career supportive competencies while promoting civic and personal responsibility.

The Future Teachers organization is led by Ms. Wynne and president James Marshall. This club explores all facets of teaching as a career choice and takes an active role of service to teachers and students. The newly organized club provides special treats for teachers during American Education Week and attends regional and state conventions.

Future Homemakers of America, under Ms. Wilkes' supervision, aims to encourage individual leadership in its members. They are involved in fund raisers and Future Homemakers of America Week.

These clubs provide great resources for students in preparing for careers and can be a lot of fun at the same time.

Mary Beth Brinn and Cindy Moore practice their teaching skills on each other while figuring out the latest killer assignment.

Catching up on the latest reports about the teaching career, James Marshall and Clarice Blount concentrate on their informative brochure.

Members of Future Teachers of America demonstrate their best teaching poses while real teachers observe and judge their stances.

The Future Business Leaders of America roll through downtown Greenville during the Homecoming Parade. Decorating the truck are computer printouts which are a major asset to business applications.

Future Teacher officers Clarice Blount, James Marshall, and Mary Beth Brinn stand with a present teacher and their club advisor, Ms. Wynne, to keep the meeting in order.

Preparing Themselves For Future Business Worlds, Students Pay The Price For Academic Success

DECA, VICA, and ICT do more than just function as clubs at Rose High School. These three clubs share a common goal — preparing students in the field of business.

The members of DECA gain insight into the business world of marketing. Three of the most important purposes of DECA are to develop leadership in the field of marketing that is competent, aggressive, self-reliant, and cooperative; to develop a sense of individual responsibility; and to develop an appreciation of civic and social obligations of those engaged in marketing. The club's tentative fund raisers for the year are: selling food and gift items from brochures to valentine balloons.

VICA's main purpose is to support and to promote vocational and technical occupations. The goal of the organization is to train promising young students for the business leadership of tomorrow. The club represents J.H. Rose High School in regional and state competitions. The representatives almost always place in the top five in any competition they enter and on numerous occasions win honors at both the regional and state levels.

ICT is still another vocational club at Rose. The Industrial Cooperative Training program continues with the common goal of preparing students for the world of business. They look forward to their annual employer-employee banquet in May.

LINE 'EM UP! This year's officers for VICA are President James Marshall, Vice-President Britt Irwin, Secretary Michelle Hyman, Treasurer Ian Worthington, and Gofer Jon West.

Straight to the point! VICA members Carolyn Moos and Georgia Shirley look over some plans that have been drawn up. VICA members enter their drawings in competition from time to time.

Catch the wave! Members of DECA give a few waves to the parade watchers. DECA had one of the most original floats dealing with the upcoming game against Wilson Hunt.

GET IT TOGETHER! The DECA officers and their advisor Mrs. Garner discuss upcoming plans for Homecoming. The officers are responsible for making sure arrangements for the DECA float have been made.

Talk it up! Seniors Cynthia Wooten and Dion Whitehurst pass the time of day while waiting for the

JROTC: A Few Good Men And Women

Designed so that the cadets can organize and run the program, JROTC is especially designed to benefit the cadet. Since the program is designed to make better citizens of the cadets, the nation benefits as a result. The cadets benefit by gaining self-discipline and self respect. JROTC helps train cadets to become bigger and better leaders.

The JROTC mission is: to help develop informed, patriotic citizens; to strengthen and develop leadership, character, and responsibility; to develop and improve speaking and writing skills; and to develop and improve physical fitness. Members learn self-discipline by participating in drills and activities. Drilling is not a punishment or an endless routine, but is a way of instilling pride in all members of the cadet corps.

Some of the functions that JROTC participates in are the Special Olympics program, raising the colors at both football and basketball games, directing parking of visiting cars at Post Secondary Opportunity Day and Career Day. They also have an annual candy fundraiser.

are Sergeant 1st Class Spell, Sergeant Green, Sergeant Little, Corporal Gardener, Corporal Blount, and Corporal Knight.

Keeping order! Corporal Knight of the JROTC mans the door during a basketball game. The JROTC helps to maintain order during the game.

TO THE BEAT! JROTC members line the street during the annual Rose Homecoming parade. JROTC shows their goal of discipline and pride while keeping in step with each other.

Battalion S-1 Pam Parker, Battalion S-2 Calvin Turbeville, Battalion S-3 Paul Sappington, Battalion S-4 Tina Smith, Battalion Ranger Commander Steven Fornville.

Rise to the occasion! Members of the JROTC have many duties to perform. The JROTC is responsible for raising the colors at the basketball and football games.

Unwavering Standards Lead Students To Moral Truths

The Rose High chapter of SADD and The Fellowship of Christian Athletes are two clubs that strove to promote the good morals of the student body.

SADD (Students Against Driving Drunk) encouraged people not to drive after drinking and not to use drugs through peer pressure. During the summer of 1987, SADD and Aladdin's Castle joined forces with MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Driving) to sponsor an after hours party at Carolina East Mall for Pitt County teenagers. In November of 1987, club President John B. Heath and Vice-president Caroline Crawford presented gifts to cancer stricken children at the Children's Hospital of Eastern North Carolina. Plans for 1988 included another party, a blood mobile, a designated driver system, and special prom activities.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes, designed to encourage athletes to compete hard and in a Christian manner, reconciled a combination of common interests and Christian values.

Their guest speakers included Jeff Jernigan, Bob Alexander, Larry Reynolds, and All-Star Harold Reynolds, second baseman for the Seattle Mariners. A car wash was held at the beginning of the year to cover such costs as refreshments and donations to charities.

Alexander the Great. FCA often had guest speakers at their meetings. Coach Bob Alexander tells stories from The Bible with unique style.

John B. Heath, Senior and president of the Rose High chapter of SADD, presides over each of the SADD meetings.

Through School Service, Hero, Recast And Minority Affairs Members Are

Lending A Helping Hand

The HERO club symbolizes and provides opportunities for self-development and improvement. The members of HERO participate in various events throughout the year, such as the Homecoming parade. The club also provides a service for the school, along with the community. The club donated a basket of food to a needy family in November and in December they participated in the Toys for Tots program by buying small gifts and donating them to needy children in Pitt County. The club also rings the bell for the Salvation Army at Christmas time. The Club's advisor is Mrs. Smith.

RECAST is designed to increase the number of engineering and science degrees from the graduates at Rose High. The members of RECAST hear speakers from the community in order to increase their knowledge and interest in these areas. RECAST also provides services for the school and they attend competitions. The club's advisors are Mrs. R. Wilkes and Mr. Barrier.

The Minority Affairs club provides a service to the school during school projects. The club helped out with the beautification week-end in November and planned to do something special for Valentine's Day. The club helps out with many other projects throughout the school year. The advisor is Mrs. Harris.

RECAST advisors Mrs. Wilkes and Mr. Barrier, along with RECAST members Gary Sutton and Carlester Crumpler, listen to a speaker during a meeting. The club hears speakers who give the members a great deal of information that helps the students make a career decision.

Inspiring them to pursue a career in a computer-oriented field, Edward Armstrong, a systems analyst, speaks to the members of RE-

CAST. Mr. Armstrong was one of the many speakers who talked to the members of RECAST throughout the year.

The Minority Affairs club shows their school spirit by entering the Homecoming parade. This was an example of just one of the many school events the club participated in during the school year. The members provided a great service to the school by helping during many school projects.

You Want Service You'll Get It From Students With Their Own Set Of Keys

The Key Club, Keywanettes, and the Anchor Club are three major service organizations at Rose High. All three clubs have similar goals in serving the community while teaching their members the responsibilities they have for themselves and for the community. Their activities range from ringing the Salvation Army bell, adopting needy children at Christmas, and making food baskets for the poor to air conditioning for the school and student activities such as dances and the Homecoming parade.

The Key Club and Keywanettes are both sponsored by the University City Kiwanis.

The Key Club is led by president Bobby Weisenberger and vice-president L.L. Everett with Mr. Jernigan as their advisor. The Keywanettes are led by president Shannon Howard and vice-president Nicole Lanier with Ms. Carawan as advisor and Ms. Heath as a "part-time" advisor.

The Anchor Club is sponsored by the Pilot Club. They are led by president Elizabeth Louis, vice-president Susan Aycock, and advisor Ms. Rowe.

Congratulations should go out to these clubs which have done a fine job helping the local needy. They are a great advantage to the community and Rose High School has something to be proud of. Keep up the good work!

With Enthusiasm And Dedication, 7 Students Experienced

An Annual Affair

It takes hard work and dedication to make a good yearbook possible. This year's seven member staff has exhibited both of these qualities to create the best yearbook that Rose High has ever had.

The year began on a positive note for the Reflections staff when they attended a 3-day seminar at U.N.C. in August. During the course of the workshop the Rose High yearbook staff proved its commitment to excellence by winning the most school spirit award. Their many hours of hard work paid off.

It is both a privilege and an honor to be on the annual staff. Although there is a lot of hard work involved in creating a yearbook, it is also a lot of fun. Staff members receive hands on experience that can prove to be a valuable asset to a journalism major, while learning self-discipline during deadlines. Being on the Reflections staff involves a lot of responsibility.

As a staff member, you are required to sell advertisements and yearbooks, but your major responsibility is the completion of the book itself.

The group is led by advisor Sylvia Briley and editor Jo Ann Brown. Jo Ann, a Senior, was a member of the yearbook staff at Northwest Guilford for three years before coming to Rose. The editor's job is to review all layouts and to make sound judgements on all submitted material.

Putting together a yearbook is a lot of hard work, but with the combined efforts of a capable and dedicated staff, the goal of a good yearbook is easily attained. This year's yearbook promises to be the best one ever.

Flipping through the Rampages . . . Senior Editor Jo Ann Brown proofreads yearbook text to be sent to the publisher.

Yearbook staff photographer Kirsten Shea spends much of her class time taking pictures that are to be used in the annual.

ing class photographs in order.

Yearbook staff members Stephen Smith, Karla Blue, and Bill Taft work hard at writing captions, making copy, and drawing layouts.

Senior Brian Wille works hard towards the completion of a layout for the yearbook. Brian, along with the other members of the staff, is required to come to school an hour before the rest of the student body arrives.

An Insight Into Journalism Led Students On The Paper Chase

The Rampant Lines, published monthly by the Journalism I, II, and III students, is the student newspaper of J.H. Rose High School. Members of the staff complete the writing, editing, and layout work as well as participating in the business and circulation aspects of the paper. All of this takes place under the supervision of Editor Christy Alexander and associate Editors Howard Resnik and Sean Frelke.

The 1986-87 Rampant Lines was judged a medalist newspaper by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Insights is a yearly publication of J.H. Rose High School. It is the literary magazine published by the First and Second Period Composition Classes under the guidance of Mrs. Virginia Jones. Usually twenty-eight to thirty-two pages in length, Insights represents literary and art work from students throughout the school. The magazine is printed by the Graphics Department and has been in publication for fifteen years. Tiffany Griffin and Danny Walsh are responsible for putting together the magazine.

Staff means extra work. Senior Stephanie Lang and Juniors Alex Ewing and Laura Young work hard to meet their deadline.

Kristy Leahy, Junior, takes a peak at some of the poems and art work in the 1987 edition of Insights.

Cheryl Burgess, Junior, interviews Mrs. Beasley, student teacher for Mrs. Jones.

Learning to develop pictures is a part of putting together Rampant Lines. Susie Moorehead, Junior, demonstrates how to use the enlarger.

Drama And Art Students Are Making A Scene Of Things

In addition to academics and athletics, there are many other organizations which combine to create the balance of Rose High School. Of these groups, two must certainly not be forgotten — Art club and Drama club.

The Art club's major goal is to provide an effective organization through which students can express themselves creatively. The Art club sponsors many projects throughout the year, the Doodle Art Contest, and the Art Club Logo Contest among many others including the prom.

The Drama club's major goal is to develop interest and talent in drama. They participate in many productions during the course of the year including their Winter Production, the North Carolina Theatre Conference, their Spring Production and the International Thespian Festival just to name a few.

The Art club and the Drama club at Rose High School do more than their share to promote spirit at Rose High. Both clubs should be congratulated for their fine efforts.

Music Students Seem To Be Tooting Their Own Horns . . .

Aside from the contests and concerts, the band entertained the crowd at football games. The percussionists always add that extra beat that leaves the Rampants jammin'.

 The Rose High School band, instructed by Mr. Mike Fussell, experienced a year of many rewards. Starting their school year off early by practicing in the grueling heat of summer, the marching band along with the flag team prepared itself for a long season of performances and contests. The band, its purpose being to train students in musicianship, performed at football games, parades, contests, and concerts.

Drum Majors John Turner and Kahmele Youssef directed the band through numerous first place awards in several contests. They won first place in the ECU Homecoming Parade on October 10 and also on October 10 they attended the Havelock Marching Band Festival. There, they picked up first place in flags, horn line, and band class "A". They were awarded second place in drum line and drum majors.

Marching towards victory once more, the band was delivered first place in horns and band class "AA" and second in drum major and flags at the Green Central Tournament of Marching Bands on October 24.

Membership in the jazz band was determined by auditions and recommendations of the director Mr. Mike Fussell. In jazz band, an early bird class, they concentrated on the exploration, study, and performance of not only jazz, but the pop, and swing idioms as well. The jazz band, not a credit class, performed at basketball games, elementary school, and bandbooster meetings. Designed to expose students to jazz based music, this class gave those who participated a broader musical background.

The Wright Stuff! The band performed their winter concert at Wright Auditorium. In preparation for this performance, the band spent lots of extra hours in practice.

They love a parade. The marching band attended various parades throughout the marching season. Here, they show their school spirit in the Homecoming parade.

And Staying In Step

When the first period bell rang the orchestra students rosened up their bows and prepared for an hour of practicing musical proficiency. In the string orchestral setting the students were exposed to advanced string literature. They were required to demonstrate a high degree of musical excellence and a more advanced interpretation in concerts and competitions. Competitions were held in April, but most of the concerts were in the winter. The orchestra played at Wright Auditorium at ECU as well as at Rose for their Christmas performance. Aside from these Christmas festivities, they performed at teachers' parties and at The Plaza.

Keeping in step and singing aloud, the Rose High Show Choir added choreography to the music they sang. Director Betty Topper and choreographer Kipper Hair brought together the fine arts of singing and dancing to produce the rhythmic and artistic interpretation of music. The show choir, practicing 7:45-8:30 Monday through Friday at school as well as Thursdays from 8:30pm-10:00pm at Down East Dance Studio, worked hard to get their movements in sync for various upcoming concerts and performances. Performing with the band at Wright Auditorium for their winter concert, the members of the show choir danced their hearts out and received a great round of applause. Once again they performed with the band for their spring concert at school.

Not only do they perform for the student body, they also entertain various club groups.

The show choir, focusing on blues, jazz, soul and rock and roll areas, featured dance movements and gestures to emphasize their interest to develop their voices and learn about music.

This year the hard work paid off as the Rampants tore through eleven unsuspecting opponents like a pack of rabid dogs. The Rampants started off the season by thrashing three tough non-conference opponents. Eastern Wayne, Jacksonsville, and Terry Sanford fell victim to the Rampant attack like unsuspecting prey. The Rampants then proceeded to dominate the Big East Conference like a giant among men by knocking off perennial powerhouses Rocky Mount, Hunt, and Fike. Also caught up in Nonetheless, good things are expected of the 1988 Rampants who return a strong senior class that has lost only one game in four years of competition. To be continued ...

Coach Leich gives the offensive linemen a few pointers while the defense was taking charge in the field. The coaches were a great asset to the talented gridiron players. Goal Standards Took The JV Football Team Above And Beyond

The 1987 JV football team came into the sweltering heat of summer practice wondering what the season would bring. After a disappointing year at Aycock in 1986, they were out to prove their abilities on the field. Despite a slow start against Jacksonville, the Rampant Cubs worked together to oust the rest of their opponents except for an overwhelming Rocky Mount team.

The season had its ups and downs, but the depth of all the positions proved to be

"1987 was a productive year for Rose High J.V. football. The players made an excellent transition from junior high to J.V. football and posted an impressive 8-2 record. I'm proud of these boys." — Coach Chip Williams.

a lifesaver as the second string was able to do a magnificent job of relieving the first string. With two powerful running backs, Maurice Hines and Dwain Williams, the Rampants were hard to stop, especially with the superb job of blocking by the offensive line. On the other side of the trenches, the defensive line did a fine job of penetrating the opponent's offensive while the linebackers and defensive backs controlled the air attack. With the combined effort of the offense and defense the Rampants outscored their opponents 199-101.

With the help of the fine coaching staff, and a never-say-die spirit among the players, they were rewarded with a record which exceeded everyone's expectations. The season erased all doubts about the abilities of the team and thoughts are turning toward the upcoming varsity season which is bound to be outstanding.

The 1987 J.V. football team is:

Front row: Terry Anderson, Hank Thompson, Shawn Langley, Wes MacKenzie, Tyrone Seymour, Joel Daughtry, Andre Gardner, Terrance Miles, Dwain Williams, Tony Ward, Jerome Vines, Kevin Goodrich

Waiting for the snap, the defensive line prepares to show their talent and power to the Eagles of North-eastern. The Rampants went on to win as they overpowered their opponent.

A group of Rampant Cubs gang up on an enemy player to stop him in his tracks.

Running back Dwain Williams receives a punt on the new Percy-Daniels football field. Williams had a great year, scoring 7 touchdowns during the course of the season.

It is a mass confusion as the Warriors and Rampants tangle while their teammates look on.

Through Continued Improvement And Enduring Stamina, The Rampant Booters Know Their

Body Politics

"Senior leadership, determination, and hard work in practice were some of the reasons for the squad's success. Motivation was a major factor this season." — Coach Will Wiberg.

teams experienced continued success in 1987. After a slow start the guy's Varsity squad finished the year with a 13-5-2 record while the girls soccer team finished with a 9-4 record. Both the guy's and the girl's soccer teams participated in the state playoffs but lost to tough first round opponents.

The 1987 Varsity soccer team continued its domination of the Big East Conference title for the fourth straight year. They also attained their yearly goal of participating in the state playoffs for the fifth consecutive time.

Rose clinched the conference title in a thrilling 2-1 come from behind victory at conference rival Wilson Hunt. The Rampants rallied from a 1-0 deficit to score twice in 25 seconds with only six minutes remaining in the game. When asked about the victory, head coach Will Wilberg said, "What an awesome game!

"Finally we played up to the abilities of the individual members of the team; in doing so we proved that as a team we were good enough to be in the state playoffs." — Coach Walter McCauley.

We just never quit. Our guys really wanted this one bad and we got it." As a result of the victory, Rose eliminated any hope of a playoff birth for Hunt for the second straight year.

Rose went on to play Wilmington Hoggard in the state playoffs. The Rampants lost the game 2-1 on a penalty kick with 11 minutes remaining.

The Lady Rampant Soccer team had a very promising 1987 season. They finished with a 9-3 conference record, the second best in the Big East. The Lady Rampants are looking for big things from this year's team. They return all but five members of a team that earned a birth in the state playoffs.

The major losses for the Rampants are on defense. They include All-Conference man, Susan Johnston, and goalkeeper Adrienne Harrington. Although the loss of the Senior leadership and the experience on defense will be tough, the Lady Rampant offense looks as if it will be able to take up the slack.

Returning on offense is the Big East Player of the Year, Lisa Leisten. In 1987, Lisa scored 19 of Rose's 28 goals, five of which were game winners. Players that will be returning this year scored the remaining nine goals.

In 1987 the Lady Rampants earned their first birth in the state playoffs. Rose travelled to Cary to play the winner of a tough Cap-9 Conference. Even though Rose lost the game 2-0, it was the best outcome that any Big East team had ever had against a Cap-9 team.

Through Practice Both Teams Had Hopes Of Soaring Serves

For the girls' and boys' tennis teams the pre-season afternoons were full of backhand and forehand practice and building up speed. This hard work really paid off for the Rampettes. The girls' tennis team, coached by Elizabeth Langston, became conference champs with a record of 14-0.

The top six players went to the regionals which were held in Wilson. Senior Wendy Simpson, who qualified in singles to go to the state tournament, and Sophomore Kathryn Taft made it to the third round. Wendy also made it to the semi-finals. Both qualifying in doubles to go to the state tournament, Seniors Gina Parrott and Nicole Maxon went as well as Junior Cammie Smith and Senior Kathy Park. The girls came in third in the regionals and fifth in the state tournament in Chapel Hill.

Throughout the regular season the Rampettes worked extremely hard to improve from match to match. They developed great leadership and support for one another, which led to strong team unity.

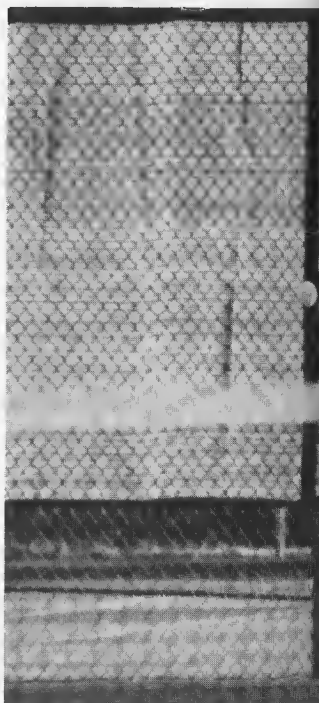

The 1987 boys' tennis team, coached by Gwen Deyton finished the season with a record of 3-11. The team did extremely well in the regional playoffs to which six players advanced. David Ruiz and Neal Creech went in singles as well as Seniors Josh Hickman and Brian Marlowe. Seniors Ben Harrison and Luis Maestre went in doubles. David Ruiz, the only player to advance to the state finals in Chapel Hill, won the singles trophy at the regionals. Rose came in second to Northern Nash.

The team's poor record was a result of inconsistent coaches as well as the depth and strengths of the opposing teams. Their coach said although their record was poor, the team demonstrated much improvement and showed much composure.

Cheering For The Rampants, Cheerleaders Raise More Than A Little Yell!

CHEER-LEADER: a person who directs organized cheering or spirit

This definition is certainly true for all of our JV and Varsity cheerleaders. At almost every sporting event one can look around and find thirteen smiling, encouraging, and yelling faces.

The JV cheerleading squad made up of Sophomores, can be found jumping up and down and cheering for our JV football team, boys' soccer team, JV basketball team, and also the girls' basketball team. The JV squad, headed by Melodie Hahn and Tracey McDonald, put a lot of work this summer in preparation for this year. They attended summer camp at Meredith College given by ECA, Eastern Cheerleading Association. At camp they won second place in competition. This hard work was certainly demonstrated at the Tobacco Festival cheerleading competition held in November of '87. There the JV squad danced and cheered their way into third place.

cheerleaders, headed by Paige Brannon and co-head Lara Moore, also put a lot of planning and spirit into the renewed pep rallies. They also participated in many outside school activities. They were chosen to participate in a kick-off promotion for United Way and also helped to cater the Pitt County Schools picnic this past summer.

At The Top Of The 'Key', Players Are Always Taking It To The Hoop

has surprised many people. After losing three starters from last year's 19-6 Big East Champion team, many thought that the Rampants did not have a chance to repeat. In fact, at the beginning of the season the Rampants were picked to finish fifth in the conference. Midway through the season, Rose is 11-4 and ranked seventh in the East.

Going into the season,

"Our success will depend on our big men and our rebounding. We feel we have as good a shooting team as anybody." — Jim Brewington, Boy's Varsity Basketball Coach.

"The key to this year's team has been tough defense, strong rebounding, and well-balanced scoring." — John Leich, Boy's JV Basketball Coach.

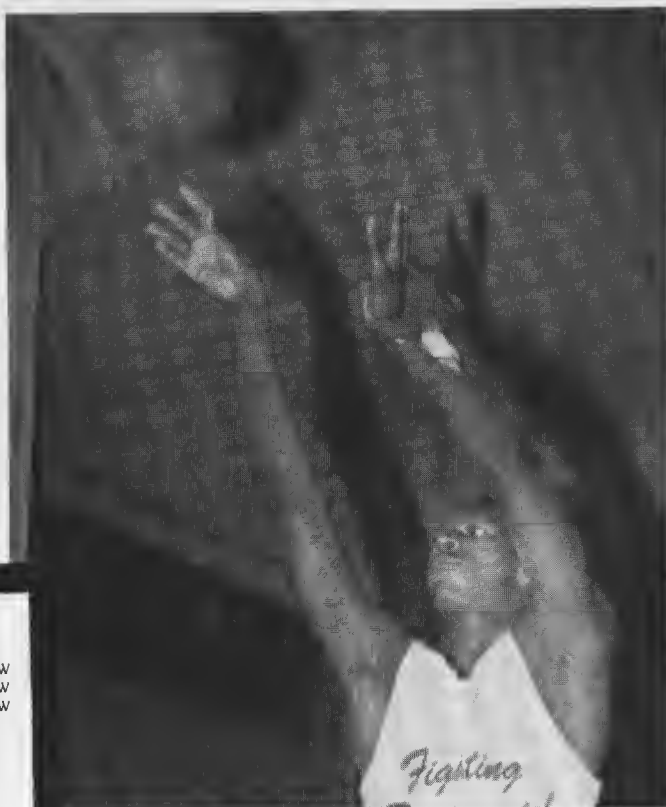

had to go to a three guard line up most of the time this year. Because of a surplus of talented guards, this has not really hurt the Rampants.

Because of a strong JV team, the future looks good for Varsity Basketball at Rose. "We may have the best JV team we have ever had at Rose", Coach John Leich comments on the success of the Boys' JV team. "The only thing we are lacking is a quick point guard."

The Boys' JV team is tied for first with a 11-2 overall record and a 6-1 conference record. The Boys are coached by John Leich and Robert Guy.

The present and future looks promising for Rose High basketball.

The Varsity baseball team, under the coaching of Ronald Vincent, reached the semifinals of the state playoffs before finally losing to Raleigh Broughton, the eventual State Champion, 2-1. The team was led by Seniors Hunter Clark, Tim Clark, Scott Davis, Jason Galloway, Jimmy Gilahan, Earl Hines, Greg Jones, Robbie McDonald, and Curtis Perkins. Other returning starters for next season include first baseman David Daniels, catcher Axel Smith, pitcher Tom Moye, center fielder Timmy Moore, and pitcher Jamie Brewington, along with other returning players, Dallas Mcpherson, Jay Surles, Wes Jackson, Brian Willie, and Jeff Mahoney. Also coming back for next season will be a strong group of Junior Varsity players. Although the seniors' play and leadership will be greatly missed, Coach Vincent is hopeful because of the nucleus of returning players with experience.

The Varsity team was led by seniors Jason Galloway with a .451 batting average and Robbie McDonald with 5 homeruns and 34 runs batted in. The team's starting pitchers were Tim Clark, 8-2, Tom Moye, 8-2, and Jamie Brewington, 6-0. The team finished with a 22-4 record and they were the Big as well as the 1987 Easter Tournament Champions.

The Junior Varsity team also experienced a great deal of success under the coaching of Chip Bunn. The team finished with an overall record of 13-1. Coach Vincent is looking for good things from these players, hoping they can step in and take the place of some of the graduates.

With the strong group of returning players, both Varsity and Junior Varsity, hopes are high for success next season.

Timmy Moore checks down to third base for Coach Ronald Vincent's signal. Timmy, who had 4 home-runs and a .446 batting average, was named the Rampants' rookie of the year last season.

Sharing comical ideas with one another, Seniors Mohammed Dar and Ed Norris pretend to listen attentively to the information being given at an SGA meeting.

While cheering for the ECU Pirates, Junior Jim Segrave along with Seniors Lisa Leisten, Amy Barr, Danielle Adams, Marie Board, and Margaret Wooten enjoy an action packed Saturday of Pirate football.

Puzzled, entranced, frightened, dazed or mad? Seniors Brett Johnson, Gil Elvington, Howard Resnik, Lee J. Ball and John Person portray the many faces seen in a crowd of Rampants.

"Your butt is mine . . ." Senior Barry Murry pauses at an outdoor pep rally to have his picture taken with a cross for the Rampant Burial Ground. The varsity football team was definitely On the Rampage.

Chip O'Rear goes incognito to a Pirate football game showing the diversified interests and personalities of the graduation class of '88.

On a more serious note, Senior drum major John Turner shows his school spirit during the Homecoming parade.

Sporting his ROTC uniform, Senior Kevin Blagmon talks with fellow Senior Jimmy Edgall before the Homecoming assembly on October 30th.

Dressed as a monk, Caroline Crawford recites the Prologue to The Canterbury Tales in Mrs. Shaw's English class. What Seniors will do for extra credit.

Taking it easy, Seniors Brian Pierce and Keyford Langley stop in the hall for a short word or two between classes.

Computer whiz kids? Maybe not . . . Try Seniors David Daniels and Jeff Mahoney — guidance aids.

Engrossed in this competitive sports' event, Senior Stephanie Hewitt shows her Rampant spirit by supporting the girls varsity volleyball team.

Lurking behind the counter at Yogurt As You Like It, Senior Jennifer King springs into action.

After getting a drink to quench her thirst at one of ECU's home football games, Senior Jenny Jones takes a seat to enjoy the remaining Pirate action.

Dear Reader:

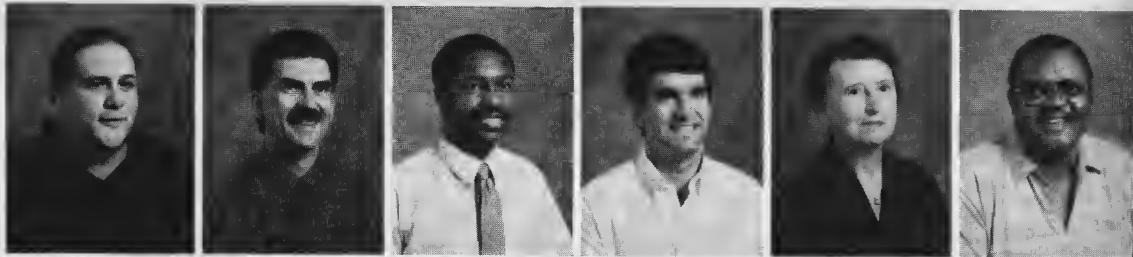

Throughout the next several pages, you will have the opportunity to view pictures of many Rose High faculty members. What you will not be able to see in their pictures are the personal traits and idiosyncrasies that emanate from each individual in the Rose High family. Their commitment to assist young people in becoming the best that can be can't be seen in photographs; therefore, I offer this exposition to encourage you to see those people as more than a picture on a page.

First of all, allow me to share what I see that you might otherwise overlook. I see a woman of refinement and gentle manners in Ms. Jones — an English teacher who continues to believe that all students can understand the complexities of the language. I see the ubiquitous Ms. Lennon everywhere! Athletics at Rose without Bud Phillips would be like Ms. Gantt's calculus class without homework — unreal! I see Ms. Ringer with her former staff sharing a Columbia Press Award; Mr. Stringfield always on bus duty; Mr. Jernigan running with his cross country team; Ms. Topper with the show choir any and everywhere; Ms. Wilkes, Ms. Brinson at school on weekends; Mr. Banks with the megaphone every spring; Ms. Burlington's flowers; Ms. Neal's patience; the camaraderie in lunch groups; Ms. Stocks' inevitable efficiency; Mr. Stinson's computer graphics, and the list goes on ...

Photographed at the 1987 Jr/Sr Prom, Vice-Principal Barbara Mallory made it one of her many stops at various Rose High functions.

Let me tell you what I hear! I hear: Ms. Morgan's conversing in Spanish with her first year students; Ms. Shaw's explanation of sentence combining; Mr. Tuten's concern for his students; Ms. Carawan's and Ms. Wynne's eternal optimism in support of teenagers; Ms. Heath calling parents; Mr. Gibson's explanation of an athlete's injury; Ms. Cox's patience with grade sheets; Ms. Harris's seeking out for students of all academic levels; Ms. Garner's efforts to promote faculty club; and still the list goes on

... I'm limited by space on this page, and I know I haven't mentioned everyone by name, but I encourage you to ponder the picture of each one of my faculty members and form a bond — a memory — for these are some very special folks. Their special talents — Ms. Coulter's knowledge of SIMS and her willingness to help — Mrs. Creech's leadership to carry us through Southern Association almost singlehandedly — Coach Williams' consummate skill in X's and O's — Ms. Tschetter's management of the Blue Rose Cafe — Ms. Nelson's letters — Ms. West and Ms. Lewis enthusiasm — Ms. Briley's master teacher practices — are all a part of what I see as I pursue the faculty section of our yearbook. What do you see?

Remember the time RV ... ? I love them all!

Barbara Mallory

Just another face in the crowd? No way. Mrs. Billie Lennon, who blends in perfectly at an ECU football game, stands out at Rose High through her many services.

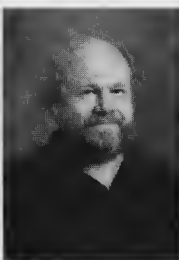

Keeping the lines of communication open, the Guidance staff members are: Jean Creech, John Leich, Sandra Rowe, Robert Barrier, and Doris Hudson.

We've got spirit ... Showing that teachers have spirit too, Vivian Humphrey claps for the Rampant football team. The question still remains — "who's got more?"

Jock talk. Members of the coaching staff gather at an outside pep rally to chat. They are: John Leich, Tommy Peacock, Bob Alexander, Jim Brewington, James Rankins and Chip Williams.

Auggghhhh! After a long day, French teacher Sylvia Briley seems a bit spooked. Paris must have put a little spirit in her.

Taking in a little Saturday football action, Coach Ronald Vincent and Marvin Jarman get a drink to quench their thirst.

it can be done

Somebody said that it couldn't be done, but he with a chuckle replied, that "maybe it couldn't" but he would be one who wouldn't say so till he tried. So he buckled right in with the trace of a grin on his face. If he worried, he hid it. He started to sing as he tackled the thing that couldn't be done, and he did it. Somebody scoffed: "Oh, you'll never do that, at least no one ever has done it." But he took off his coat and took off his hat and the first thing he knew he'd begun it. With the lift of a chin and a bit of a grin, if any doubt rose he forbid it; he started to sing as he tackled the thing that couldn't be done, and he did it. There are thousands to tell you it cannot be done; there are thousands to prophesy failure; there are thousands to point out to you, one by one, the dangers that wait to assail you, but just buckle right in with a bit of a grin, then take off your coat and go to it. Just start in to sing as you tackle the thing that cannot be done, and you'll do it.

A Commitment to Excellence.

Burroughs Wellcome—Excellence by and for people.

The commitment to excellence began in 1880.

Henry Wellcome, a founder of Burroughs Wellcome Co., promised his scientists: "If you have an idea, I'll give you the freedom to develop it."

The freedom to develop ideas.

That's a cornerstone of Burroughs Wellcome's philosophy. It's one of the many reasons for our success in the development and manufacturing of medicines which help millions of people.

We have 1,500 people in Greenville who share this commitment to excellence and quality production. It's also a commitment to the community in which Burroughs Wellcome employees live and work.

People who care. Quality products that make a difference. These are the hallmarks of Burroughs Wellcome's past and the foundation of our future.

ONE'S PHILOSOPHY IS NOT BEST EXPRESSED IN WORDS, IT IS EXPRESSED IN THE CHOICES ONE MAKES. IN THE LONG RUN, WE SHAPE OUR LIVES AND WE SHAPE OURSELVES. THE PROCESS NEVER ENDS UNTIL WE DIE. AND THE CHOICES WE MAKE ARE ULTIMATELY OUR RESPONSIBILITY.

A Year With Rage

As Rampants in '88, we've definitely experienced the Wild Side. We tailgated at ECU, played like children in the snow and spent endless nights at Joyner Library. We prayed we'd pass our tests, but somehow, still found time to goof off in class. While Robbie Barnes excelled in academics by becoming a Morehead finalist, the athletic reputation at Rose flourished. Kristi Overton won the Dial Award, Adrian Barnhill and David Daniels signed to play football for the Pirates, and the 1987 football team exceeded all others.

Nationwide, things got a little out of hand. 1987-1988 proved to be the year of the scandal. With Jim and Tammy in tears, the fall of an evangelical empire left followers in the dark. Exposed infidelity damaged the presidential campaign of Gary Hart and the Iran/Contra hearings left Oliver North a national hero.

Like anyone else, we were dealt our share of blows. Sophomores and Juniors lost exam exemption privileges and the student body was reprimanded for unruly conduct at the Christmas assembly. However, regardless of good or bad, as the year came to a close and the Seniors prepared to graduate, we could all look back and say, "Twas the rage in '88!"
